CHIEF CARPENTER MUST STOP WHILE PASSING IF LAW ENFORCEMENT DRIVERS MAY PROCEED AS THEY SEE WAY IS CLEAR SPEED LIMIT TEN MILES ON JASPER BETWEEN FIRST AND KINISTON.

Chief of Police Carpenter stated this morning that although it was his intention to enforce the new amendment to the motor vehicle act prohibiting motor cars from passing a stationary street car, it is his intention to use discretion in doing so.

"For instance," said the chief, "I do not think that it is necessary in all cases for the automobile to remain at a standstill until the street car has started. If this requirement were strictly enforced it would mean, in many cases, an unnecessary inconvenience to the driver of the automobile, and it is necessary that the automobile shall stop until all prospective passengers have loaded the car and that they alight. At first street and Jasper the car should stop longer than is necessary for the passenger to get out or alight, automobiles may pass as soon as the drivers see the way is clear.

"I think the new provision a very good one and one that is absolutely essential and it will be rigidly enforced in the instance I have just mentioned."

When asked concerning the new regulation passed by the council, which fixes the speed limit for automobiles to 20 miles an hour inside the limits of a city, the chief said: "We shall not permit any such speed within the limits of Edmonton. We have a city ordinance fixing the limit for the motor vehicle at 15 miles an hour in the city and between the C.N. tracks and Jasper on First street. Outside those limits a speed of 15 miles an hour is the limit. I understand that as long as the city ordinance does not set a limit in excess of that permitted by the provincial regulation it is constitutional. Cities have the right to place any limit they may choose as long as it is not higher than that provided by the province."

Chief Carpenter stated that there had been no suggestion of any kind as to the police department had been waiting for drivers and owners of cars to become aware of the new regulation. He advised drivers to begin observing the regulation at once and that there will be no leniency in the enforcement of the law. He said that he served as to when arrests will be made for its violation and that leniency of the law is not an acceptable excuse in court.

BIRCH MAYORALTY CAMPAIGN NEW WORK NEARS END

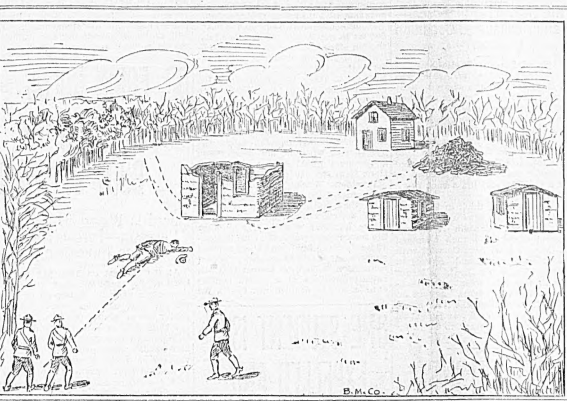

Tomorrow Will Decide Whether Tiger Will Be Driven to His Lair.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 3.—New York city's bitter mayoralty campaign ended upon it's last day today, closing speeches of candidates were made today and voters will decide whether Edward R. McCall, Tammany, or John Purroy Mitchell, the fusion nominee, shall be mayor.

William Sulzer, deposed governor, seeking to return to the assembly as a progressive, published today letters and telegrams purporting to show that McCall had accepted the fusion ticket. The Tammany leader, to stop the impeachment trial, provided Sulzer would endorse McCall's election. The fusion nominee, however, refused to do so. Sulzer's enemies managed to get the letters into circulation today. Sulzer's general manager has indicated in Albany county for subornation of perjury in connection with his testimony before the high court of impeachment.

MORLEY WILL RETIRE.
Victoria, Nov. 3.—Mayor Morley has announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election.

INDIANAPOLIS STREET CAR STRIKE CAUSES SURGING MOB TO FILL STREETS

Police Notify Company to Withdraw Cars from Streets

Declare that Otherwise They Would Be Unable to Prevent Bloodshed—Governor Declares City Not Doing Their Duty in Failing to Provide Protection but Refuses to Call Out Militia.

Indianapolis, Nov. 3.—The Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company, whose men went on strike Friday night, attempted to run its cars yesterday but gave up when notified by Superintendent of Police Hyland that the police would be unable to prevent bloodshed until the cars were withdrawn.

Joe Johnson, a striking motor man, was shot and wounded by a policeman who fired into the crowd that surged around the first car to be sent out. Two cars were taken from the barns, each filled with policemen, but the crowds packed around them so closely they could not be moved. Soon after the shooting of Johnson they were ordered back to the barns.

Won't Call Out Militia.
Governor Ralston in a statement tonight charged that the city authorities are not doing their duty in failing to provide protection. He declined to call out the militia.

The police mingled with the crowds, but made little effort to disperse them, except when the crowds surged too nearly around the deserted street cars that stood in the down town streets. Four policemen turned in their badges and resigned when ordered to accompany the cars. In spite of Superintendent Hyland's orders to arrest partisans, the police were unable to do more than a dozen men were taken to the police station during the day.

No Effort to Disperse Crowds.
The police mingled with the crowds, but made little effort to disperse them, except when the crowds surged too nearly around the deserted street cars that stood in the down town streets. Four policemen turned in their badges and resigned when ordered to accompany the cars. In spite of Superintendent Hyland's orders to arrest partisans, the police were unable to do more than a dozen men were taken to the police station during the day.

Only Two Cars Put Out.
Only two cars filled with policemen and manned with strike breakers pulled out in the morning. The crowd prepared to offer violence. When the crowds continued to pack around the cars the men did not represent organized labor, deploring the violence and urging that the strike be dropped.

"We sincerely hope that the authorities will take the necessary steps and put an end to the actions of the disorderly crowd that has taken advantage of the situation to do violence. The union men of this city are not rioters and have nothing to do with these disorders."

The authorities do not expect that any serious disorder will take place until a time later, when cars will be started.

In reply speakers addressed these around the car barns all day, and most of last night. Another reply spoke to those assembled near the state house. No effort was made to prevent their speaking. President Todd of the traction company declared that very small number of the employees went on strike yesterday. They have been dragged from cars to the hall where they have been forced to join the union knowing well that if they refused they would be roughly treated.

"The trouble is caused by men from Chicago and Pittsburgh who have been brought here to break the strike. They are here to unionize the men by force. A strike breaker from Philadelphia, was fatally shot in the neck and died on the way to the city hospital. Police were shot by one of the men in the barn."

Streets Reaped Of.
Police had the streets around the barns roped and when they cut down the ropes for an automobile to pass the crowd rushed in. The strikers and friends pushed past the police to the barns. About a dozen shots were fired. D. Pleischer was the only one hit. The mob then started for the West Washington street barns. Just as they were about to enter the barns they were met at the Labor Temple by Milton L. Clawson, an attorney prominent in labor circles and advised to disperse.

GRATIFICATION IS FELT AT VATICAN

Pope Expresses Satisfaction at Election of Six More Catholic Deputies.

Rome, Nov. 3.—It was said at the Vatican this morning that the pope had expressed satisfaction at the election of six more Catholic deputies in the second ballot of the Italian general elections. He was pleased at the defeat of the candidate in Rome supported by the coalition of radicals, republicans and socialists which has been in control of the municipality for so long a time. The defeat of the former priest, Father Romolo Murri, leader of the Catholic deputies, was noted with satisfaction.

Mayor Nathan of Rome will shortly convene a meeting of the adherents of the city which it is expected he will present his resignation. As a municipal election is to take place in June next year it is assumed that the former mayor will in the interim appoint a royal commissioner.

FONBERG FOUND GUILTY ON SATURDAY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Constables Describe Circumstances Attending the Shooting of the Mounted Policeman—Prisoner Gives Rambling Evidence—Declares that He Has Iron Mine Four Miles Square on His Hometown.

"Dear Fonberg, you are found guilty of manslaughter, I hereby sentence you to life imprisonment."

This sentence followed a verdict by the jury on Saturday evening about 8.30 p.m. The jury were only out for 20 minutes and then returned the verdict of manslaughter.

The trial of Fonberg was started on Saturday morning, when Constable Tetley, the first witness, was called. He stated that he was stationed at Tofted on April 22, when he was directed to arrest a man named Fonberg, who was alleged to be insane. Arriving at the man's shack he found him there, but he had come to arrest him and took hold of the accused to put the handcuffs on him, when he resisted, and as the man was of a very powerful build the constable was unable to arrest him; so after a short struggle the officer took his departure, telling the accused that he would be back for him the next day with assistance. Tetley then returned to Tofted and reported the matter to the district auditor and returned the next day to Fonberg's shack with Constable Stand and Whiteley.

At the shack of the accused, he testified, Bailey went up to the door and knocked and called to Fonberg to come out, but he wanted to see him. Receiving no answer, he knocked again and this time received a reply from the officers, climbed the roof and entered the shack "Go away," this the accused said, "I don't want to see you."

Tried to Smother Him Out.
Having been warned not to take any chances with the man they then undertook to smother the man out. Two constables went to the door and put burning straw down the stove pipe in their efforts to smother the man out.

John T. Barton, 3.—John T. Barton, at present the general manager of the Alberta government telephone service, and Miss Mable Sandals of 17 Bruce street, district of Boston, were school-day sweethearts in this city. Mr. Barton is stationed at Edmonton, back in the old school days when Barton went to Wakefield, Mass. high school, he was the escort of Miss Sandals at the school dance. He went to Wakefield high and she to Dorchester high, but the school "brought" the young people together. Although he was destined to go thousands of miles away he promised not to forget her. The engagement has now been announced and the wedding will take place December 31, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Hanson. The engagement was announced at a recent union of the high school alumni association.

Shot.
Tetley, coming round the corner of the shack was just in time to see Fonberg. He called out to the other officers, "Bailey is shot." In the meantime Whiteley had also been wounded. Constable Whiteley, the prisoner, ran from the blacksmith shop to a large woodpile which was near by. Constable Whiteley tried to crawl to the body of Bailey, as he was not sure that Bailey was dead. He got out a short distance when the firing got so hot that he had to return. He was crawling in the open with no shelter whatever and the crowd man shouting for all that he was wounded. Finally the prisoner made his escape in the dark to the north of the shack.

Searched for Fonberg.
After conveying the body of Bailey to Tofted and reporting the matter, Stand and Tetley spent the night at a home-

Testifies in His Own Behalf.
The accused was then called to take the stand on his own behalf. His evidence was rather disoriented and at times almost foolish, clearly proving that he had no intention of the man was his.

He stated that he had been born in Sweden in 1876, and came to Canada nine years ago, working at different times in different places until he came to the work on his brother's homestead some four years ago. He also claims to have fought with the British army in the Boer war. When asked if any prospecting had ever been done on his place he replied yes, that he had a
